JUDGE EMERY SPEER IS SCORED

Congressional Committee Says Evidence Not Enough for His Impeachment

BUT SHOWS MISUSE OF HIS HIGH OFFICE

Legal Oppressions and Abuse of Judicial Discretion Shown by Record

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Judge Emery Speer of the United States District Court at Macon, Ga., in a report filed with the House Judiciary Committee, today was severely arraigned for misusing his high office, but he was spared an impeachment trial in the Senate because the committee believed there was not sufficient evidence of wrong doing to convict him. The committee requested the House to drop the charges. Representative Volstead of Minnesota, representative and minority member of the sub-investigation committee, submitted a separate report, exonerating Speer. Representative Webb and Fitzhugh signed the majority report.

"Early in his judicial career," the majority report stated, "Judge Speer ascertained the limit to which he could go before liability to impeachment would accrue and went as close to the line upon many occasions as safety would permit."

"The sub-committee regrets inability to recommend either a complete acquittal of Judge Speer," the representative continued, "of all culpability in these charges are concerned, on the one hand, or an impeachment on the other. And yet, we are persuaded that the complete legal evidence at hand is not sufficient to secure a conviction. But the committee does feel that the record presents a series of legal oppressions and shows an abuse of judicial discretion, which, though falling short of impeachment, demand condemnation and criticism."

Judge Speer was stamped as an autocrat by the majority. "It was rare, indeed, that a jury was permitted to return a verdict contrary to his wishes, regardless of facts," said the representative.

Investigators did not question the charge that Speer had permitted his friends to exact liberal fees in bankruptcy cases. They criticized the judge for using federal employees as servants.

The probers attacked Speer because of the "lack of harmony between the judge and the district bar."

"There has been an absolute want of effort of the court to make the people of that district feel that their federal court was the bulwark of their liberties," the report said.

Among other charges, the committee declared unjustified as far as possible conviction is concerned, that Judge Speer used drugs, that he disregarded mandates of the court of appeals, and that he unlawfully seized and sold property.

GOVERNMENT IS NOT TO DROP OIL SUITS

Decision for S. P. Against "Outsiders" Does Not Apply to Government Claims

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Despite the supreme court decision yesterday against "outsiders" who sought to invalidate Southern Pacific Railway company's patents to California oil lands worth $500,000,000, it seemed certain today that the government will not drop its suits to recover the midway-Coalinga oil land properties held by the railroad.

It was reiterated that the ruling on the "outsiders" claims does not necessarily mean that the government cannot recover the disputed tracts which after patents had been issued proved to be mineral-bearing. The Midway-Coalinga suits concern properties worth one hundred million dollars.

In its efforts to recover the oil land properties the government advances arguments that although its representatives did not know the properties were oil-bearing at the time the patents were granted, that the Southern Pacific management was aware of that fact, and consequently the transactions were fraudulent.

PSYCHOLOGICAL DULNESS IS BUSINESS

Secretary Redfield Brings Up Facts to Support View of President

SAYS BUSINESS QUIET HAS BEEN WORLD-WIDE

U. S. Recovering Most Swiftly; All Signs Indicate Nearness of Industrial Revival

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Strong support of President Wilson's position that the present dullness in business is merely psychological was voiced today in a statement issued by Secretary of Commerce Redfield. He said:

"The United States was the last nation to enter on a world-wide depression. We have felt it the least and we are emerging from it. Dulness in trade and business is just psychological, as the president has said. Reports from all sections of the country compiled for the commerce department show this. Other nations suffered longer and more severely than we did, notably France, Germany, England, Canada and Brazil. The conditions in these countries contradict the conditions most generally assigned for depressions. Germany is the greatest trust country in the world, while in France there are no trusts. Brazil has a high protective tariff, yet they all suffered."

Secretary Redfield said his department is receiving a large number of "prosperity letters" which strengthen his belief that an industrial revival is near. He said that in the first two weeks in June the Rock Island Railroad handled an increase of a thousand cars of freight. The approaching harvest is creating an unusual demand for agricultural implements, and the market for average priced automobiles never was better, he said.

SHIPS CRASH ON RIVER ELBE, GERMANY

Excursion Steamer Torn by Queen Louise at Yacht Race; Many Hurt, None Dead

CUXHAVEN, Germany, June 23.—The Hamburg-American liner "Queen Louise" crashed into the teamship Cobra, crowded with sightseers, while following the Kaiser's yacht, "Meteor," in a race off the mouth of the river Elbe. The liner tore a great hole in the steamer's side. A panic aboard followed the crash and a dozen boats came to the rescue. There were no fatalities, it is reported, but many people were injured. A report prevailed for a time that the Emperor's yacht with the Emperor aboard had been run down.

Many of the terror-stricken throng aboard the excursion craft clambered from their ship over the liner's side. The Cobra filled quickly but the crew sturdily stood by the pumps, keeping the water down while the ship ran for the nearest dock, which it reached almost in a sinking condition.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL MEET

5000 Delegates and Thousands of Visitors Gather From Over the World

CONVENTION HALL WILL HAVE CAPACITY OF 6000

Twelve Churches Besides to Be Used for Daily Meetings of Vast Convention

CHICAGO, June 23.—Nearly 5000 delegates and alternates and several thousand visitors from all parts of the world were in Chicago today for the opening tonight of the fourteenth International Sunday school convention. To be in session here for one week, "Jesus Shall Reign" is the convention keynote, printed on cards and flashed in electric signs. It will be the object of the convention sermon to be preached at the opening session in Medinah Temple tonight by Rev. C. P. Anderson, bishop of the Chicago diocese of the Episcopal Church.

Medinah Temple, with a seating capacity of 6000, will be the convention hall, but while the delegates are in session there, other meetings will be held daily in twelve of the largest city churches. Conferences, congresses and discussions by smaller groups will be carried on in other Chicago churches while the main body of delegates is transacting the convention's business. National and state prohibition, the relationship of the Sunday school to the public school, and the Sunday school's responsibility to foreign-speaking peoples, are three of the most important topics to be discussed at the convention. Among the speakers will be Richmond Pearson Hobson and Booker T. Washington. A mammoth parade, in which convention leaders hope to see 50,000 men in line, will move through the loop district on Saturday afternoon, June 27. The group conferences will consider every phase of Sunday school work. There will be conferences on evangelism, rural Sunday schools, Sunday school music, social service, temperance and purity. Special conferences will relate to Sunday school work among college students. The report of Marion Lawrence, general secretary of the International Association, will be read at a brief forenoon session tomorrow. The afternoon will be given over to conferences and in the evening Rev. W. J. Williamson of St. Louis and Dr. Edward A. Steiner, president of Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa, will speak.

Missionaries in this country on furlough will be banqueted Thursday night, following a day of conferences and brief addresses. Rev. John Timotheus Stone, former moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, and Rev. Edgar Blake, corresponding secretary of the board of Sunday schools of the M. E. Church, are speakers at the evening session. A festival concert, with a chorus of 1,000 girls, will be given in the Auditorium theater Friday night as one of the special features of the convention. Preceding the concert, the "superintendents' senate" will convene at the Auditorium hotel, Sunday school superintendents discussing many problems. At the same hour, Prof. William A. Wirt, superintendent of the model public schools at Gary, Ind., will speak on the "The Public Schools' Co-operation With the Sunday Schools."

HOPELESS LOVE MAY HAVE CAUSED HIM TO END HIS LIFE

Unusual Mystery Clothes Suicide of A. G. Miller, Santa Ana Business Man, In Los Angeles Yesterday

Estranged from his wife for years, strongly attracted to another woman, but unable to get a divorce, and seeing no prospect of making another home for himself, probably were the contributing causes of the despondency which led Arthur G. Miller, secretary and general manager of the Titus Stock Remedy Co. of this city, to commit suicide in Los Angeles yesterday.

At least, this is the theory advanced by some of his friends here, based on such meager facts as can be learned. The suicide is clothed with an extraordinary degree of mystery, and the theory given is the only one for which there is any tangible foundation.

Miller committed suicide in his room at the Hotel Hayward, Los Angeles, sometime between noon and 4 o'clock yesterday, by taking poison. He left his boarding house at 931 Spurgeon street yesterday morning in something of a hurry, apparently for a short trip to the city. Nothing in his actions then indicated that he contemplated a desperate step, but some facts which have since come to light indicate that he may have made preparations for the deed in advance.

In Miller's death chamber was found a note asking that his wife, Mrs. Frances P. Miller, "of 1304 Stout street, Denver," be notified of his death. A telegram was sent to the address given, but no reply was received by the authorities last night.

Miller came to Santa Ana nearly four years ago, and took a position with the Titus Stock Remedy Co., his first duties being some light on sales. At that time he said that he had a wife in Denver, but was always reticent about his domestic affairs, even to his closest associates. He also spoke of having a daughter.

Wife's Letter Throws Light

When it was learned that no answer had been received from Mrs. Miller in Denver, Coroner and Public Administrator Winbigler went to Miller's room and examined his effects with a view to finding further information regarding his relatives. In his room was found a letter which on the envelope bore the address, "Box 115, Capital Hill Station, Denver."

This letter, apparently, is from Miller's daughter, Willora, and with it was enclosed a note from Mrs. Miller. The latter throws some light on Miller's affairs. The letter from Mrs. Miller was dated June 11, 1914, and said:

"Dear Arthur:—Brother Jack was killed at Montrose, Colo., last night. Am leaving at 9 to bring remains to Denver. Should anything happen to me, for God's sake be good to my baby girl. I leave her with friends. Will reach Denver on return trip Sunday a.m.—Frances."

In Miller's room in this city were found a large number of kodak pictures, apparently of his daughter, Willora. One of these showed the girl holding a baby girl possibly two years of age. It was labeled "Willora Helen Miller, picture taken at 9."

With a date which would indicate the girl to be about fifteen now. It also bore the inscription "Tootsie" Miller, which is taken to refer to the baby, and would seem to indicate that Miller had a younger daughter. Various other pictures showed the same two children, and in one of them a dog was included in the group.

Among Miller's effects was a letter on which the address was slightly mutilated, but it seemed to be "P. P. Miller, 506 East Thirtieth street, Denver." The date of this letter was May 24, 1912. There was also found an undated and unsigned copy of the will of Arna M. Spratt, of New York City. In this the legatees were her niece, Willora Helen Miller of Butte, Mont., her father, George Miller, R. K. Dow of Clermont, N. H., Mrs. Stella Ford of 449 Warren avenue, Chicago, and Corn. Friends Are Astounded have been answered with jeers and epithets when they questioned Miller. Citizens believe, however, that the man was mentally unbalanced and has wandered away.

Friction between the American and Mexican outposts has unquestionably increased in the last few days. American officers have instructed their men to observe strict care in their dealings with the Mexican outposts.

It is understood they have been ordered to understand no fire unless a general attack begins.

Gen. Funston took extra precautions late today to avoid a clash. His first action was to refuse a Mexican request to send a military passenger to a certain point usually reached by the American train that meets the trains from Mexico City. The feeling is growing here that the Mexican troops are awaiting an excuse to provoke trouble and Gen. Funston is determined to take no chance.

as a tremendous surprise and shock to his friends here, and all of them expressed themselves as utterly unable to assign a motive. For a year and a half past Miller had boarded with the Misses Wilson, at 931 Spurgeon. Miss Wilson said this morning that Miller had always appeared cheerful, never gave indications of having financial or other troubles of a serious nature, and was the picture of health. He was always very reticent about his personal affairs, however.

It was learned today that for some months past Miller had been very attentive to a Santa Ana lady. He made no secret of the fact that he had a wife living, although reluctant to talk of her. While there is no definite basis for the assumption, his friends, for lack of other apparent motive, have formulated the theory that Miller was unable to secure a divorce from his wife, from whom he was estranged, and that after brooding over the matter he simply decided to end all because life did not seem worth the living.

A. R. Rowley, of the Titus Stock Remedy Company, said this morning that Miller's suicide had left the officers of the company dumbfounded, as they were entirely at a loss to ascribe a motive. Mr. Rowley said that no examination had been made as yet of Miller's books, but he was fully satisfied that there was nothing wrong with them. An examination will, of course, be made at once. Mr. Rowley said Miller had never given any indication of being in financial troubles, and there was nothing in his record to cause suspicion of that kind. Miller had the handling of the company's money, said A. R. Rowley, but he was satisfied from various facts that there could be no serious shortage.

May Have Planned Step There are various facts connected with Miller's departure from the city yesterday which indicate that he contemplated some unusual step. Yesterday he closed his account at the Farmers & Merchants' National Bank, drawing out $100. He returned to his boarding house shortly after 9 o'clock, apparently in a hurry. On his way to his room he said that he was in a hurry to catch the next car out, presumably the 10:25. He threw some articles of clothing into a suitcase and left the house hurriedly.

As he was going along the sidewalk the Misses Wilson called a good-bye and Miller mumbled some thing unintelligible, but did not say good-bye. When he left the offices of the Titus company yesterday morning Miller said nothing about going away, which was decidedly unusual, as he had always been in the habit of announcing any intention of leaving the city, if only for a day. An advertisement, giving notice of the annual meeting of the Titus Stock Remedy Co. on July 6, was left at the Register office about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Whether Miller was the man leaving the notice is not known by the clerk who received it.

Miller registered at the Hotel Hayward about noon yesterday, went to the room assigned him, and was not seen alive again. About 4 o'clock, a friend, A. C. Stockbridge, of 631 South Spring street, called to keep an appointment with him, and when the telephone call was not answered, went up to the room. Miller's body, fully dressed, was found lying on the bed. Dr. R. Nichols Smith, who was called, said that death had probably taken place some time after 3 o'clock. The body was taken to the morgue of the Garrett Undertaking Company.

Was Successful in Butte Before coming to Santa Ana, Miller lived in Butte, Montana. He was known there by W. L. Deimling, now local manager of the Southern California Edison Co. Deimling says that Miller was very successful there, and that his standing was excellent. Miller was a member of the Masonic order in Butte. He was about fifty years old.

ZECATECAS SUCCESS FOR REBELS MAY SPELL PEACE

Meantime Villa Plans for Battle; Expects Fierce Resistance; Rebels Win Zapotlan

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Members of the rebel junta here for the first time seemed hopeful today for the restoration of peace in Mexico. They said frankly that they believe an agreement on a provisional government will be reached tonight or even earlier at a conference scheduled between the Huertistas and Constitutional representatives. Men high in the Washington administration held the same opinion. They said there might be several days' delay in sending Constitutional representatives to Niagara Falls, but as little time will be lost as possible.

PEACE AWAITS SUCCESS OF VILLA AT ZECATECAS

NIAGARA FALLS, June 23.—The mediators are waiting today for definite assurances that representatives of the Mexican Constitutionalists will join in the peace negotiations here. Should they do so, their status will be unofficial because they have refused to agree to an armistice. If an agreement is reached it will simply be embodied in a protocol which the Huertistas will sign in behalf of the Mexican government and the Americans will endorse it. All agree that much depends on the success of General Villa's impending attack on Zecatecas.

REBEL GENERALS RALLY TO VILLA CONFERENCE

SANITAS, Mexico, June 23.—Gen. Natera, until recently in charge of rebel operations about Zecatecas, arrived here today for a conference with Generals Villa, Angeles, Herrera, Benavides and Urbana. Complete plans for the attack on the city were outlined.

It became known today that Gen. Barron, commanding the federal garrison at Zecatecas, has been recently strongly reinforced. A desperate resistance is expected although the federals will be greatly outnumbered by the rebels.

The roads are slightly better today. Villa will probably be able to bring in his siege guns before the end of the week, when the general attack will probably begin. Outpost skirmishing continues today with no advantage.

Generals All for Villa

George C. Carothers, special agent of the State Department, intends to leave here Tuesday to rejoin Villa. General Alvarado Obregon and every other commander of constitutional forces on the east coast of Mexico from the border to the City of Tepic has allied himself definitely on the side of Villa and has placed himself under Villa's orders, according to advices received here.

It is claimed that a message from General Obregon is authority for the statement. Surprise was occasioned inasmuch as Obregon has been counted on as a Carranza supporter. It is said that with the exception of a few minor civil officials who retain their friendship for Carranza the west coast is for Villa.

OLYMPIC RULES PROVOKE FIGHT

PARIS, June 23.—Over the protest of James E. Sullivan, secretary of the American Athletic Union, the international congress which is in session here arranging for the 1916 olympic games in Berlin, reduced from twelve games to six the number of entrants allowed in each event from one nation. The fight was bitter but the decision is not yet regarded as final.

Sullivan declared that if America is allowed but six entrants it would be impossible for her to win. He said that if the six man rule prevails the probabilities are that America will not be represented. After the meeting Sullivan in an interview predicted that the twelve entrants rule will be restored.

ULTIMATUM IS DRAWN FOR P. E.

Must Complete East Fourth
Street Extension or No Turn to Main Street

CITY AND COMPANY
SEEM AT IMPASSE

Fifth Street Paving to Be Settled at Special Meeting
Tomorrow Evening

The City Trustees prepared an ultimatum for delivery to the Pacific Electric at their meeting last night. The ultimatum is to the effect that the company will not be granted permission to construct a curve from the west at the corner of Fourth and Main streets until it shall have agreed to extend its Fourth street line from the depot east to the city limits. It was also brought out that the company has positively and unequivocally refused to make such extension, so that an impasse seems to have been reached. It was further brought out that the company does not consider it practicable to run through cars to Orange until it has the curve.

Incidentally several trustees took turns at roasting the railroad company. City Attorney Heathman stated to the board that he had seen Engineer Hill of the P. E. at Huntington Beach Saturday, and had been requested to ask what the city proposed doing in regard to the franchise recently submitted by the company. This was after a franchise which the city proposed had been turned down by the company. Alderman moved that the franchise be returned to the company with the understanding that it must build the Fourth street extension before the turn-out at Fourth and Main will be granted.

President Ey said that in a con-

WEST VIRGINIA BREWERS SOON TO BE OUT OF THAT BUSINESS

Dry Amendment Voted by 100,000 Majority in That State Goes Into Effect on First Day of July

WHEELING, W. Va., June 23.—The state of West Virginia will be dry territory on and after July 1, next, if the amendment added to the constitution by more than 100,000 majority of the voters of the state at the general election in November, 1912, is properly enforced. Brewery properties, valued at fully $6,000,000, must be abandoned as breweries on that date. Several of the companies, however, already have made plans toward converting their plants. Some have decided to operate ice and cold storage structures, others amusement halls, and still others as packing-houses.

In this connection little choice is left the brewing companies, inasmuch as the new law makes it an offense to manufacture brewery products in the state. While the law is less drastic with reference to dealers, providing only for confiscation, yet retail dealers, without exception, are making plans toward accommodating themselves to the new order and have leased their rooms for restaurants or poolrooms, largely.

Still another class, however, probably, will not be deterred from doing an illegal business in intoxicants inasmuch as the federal authorities have pressed for a reply as to what they purpose to do, remarked that the state constitution cannot transcend the government's regulations, and that versation with President Shoup of the P. E. recently the latter had said that the company could not, under any circumstances build the Fourth street extension. Ey said that the company had so little interest in the matter that when a party of officials of the company was here in a private car looking over matters it was only on Ey's urgent request that they even consented to go out to the east end of the line and look over things there. He knew that the company had never made application to the railroad commission for permission to cross the railroad.

McPhee said that he had been watching the operations of the P. E. for some time, and his conclusion was that it does not give Santa Ana a fair deal at any stage of the game. He intended to build the Fourth street extension, he said. It violated the terms of its franchise in the operation of freight trains, and persistently broke the promises made to the city. It had not kept a promise in ten years, he said.

Ey said the crossing at Fourth and Main was one of the worst constructed in Southern California. He said that if ever a franchise is granted the company should be compelled to put in modern rails and make the rails and paving finish.

Alderman's motion carried, McPhee voting No because he wanted completion of the double track on the main line included in the ultimatum. Fifth Street Paving Bids were opened for two sections of paving on West Fifth street, one from Garney to Baker and the other from Baker to Artesia. Max L. Huberman bid 11 cents per square foot on each section. W. F. Hewitt & Co. lumped their bid, offering to do the entire work at 11.7 cents per square foot. As the paving work is to be in two separate pieces of work of different widths, City Attorney Heathman held that the latter bid was "somewhat irregular." On motion the matter was referred to a committee for investigation, and that when the board adjourn it be to meet Wednesday night. The motion carried and President Ey named Alderman, Greenleaf and City Engineer Steward on the committee.

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich. — "I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong." — Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work. In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in house, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E. One feature of the law promises to make property owners take a second thought before leasing buildings to persons likely to operate "speakeasies," and this is a clause that provides for the abatement of nuisances, which has been interpreted by the courts to mean that such buildings may be razed. In this connection, however, the state tax commissioner, who is ex-officio commissioner of prohibition, holds that a citizen may have in his home an unlimited quantity of intoxicants and can "treat" bona fide guests without being amenable to the law.

As regards the various clubs in the different cities of the state, the commissioner's ruling is somewhat different, since he holds that the "locker system" is a violation and that any private organization keeping on hand a supply of drinks for its members is amenable to the law.

Meanwhile, those who favored the adoption of the amendment have been organizing for a battle for its enforcement, once it becomes the law. They anticipate trouble only in Ohio county, of which Wheeling is the chief city, and in McBowell county, in which are a number of small mining towns.

asked that the trustees refuse a permit to establish a laundry at 756 Orange avenue. Alderman for the committee named to investigate the matter said he had looked into the matter, and found that the property owners adjoining the proposed site had unanimously signed a petition in favor of granting the permit. Later he had heard that the project to locate the laundry would be abandoned. Therefore he asked further time for the committee, which was granted. For the committee appointed to consider the petition asking that poolrooms and moving picture shows be closed on Sunday, Alderman stated that an attempt had been made to verify the signatures, but it was found that to use the old great register would be unfair, and that the new register would not be out for a month. He asked further time until the new great register is printed, which was granted.

Contract for supplying pipe and fittings for the water works was awarded to the U. S. Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Co. of San Francisco, the committee finding it to be the lowest bidder.

Robert W. Hunt & Co. submitted a proposition to inspect the pipe purchased by the city at 25 cents per ton at point of shipment, and fittings at 50 cents per ton. The offer was accepted.

A petition that J. V. Westbrook be appointed a special policeman without pay was referred to the police committee.

No Sidewalk Signs Mr. Hawk, representing the Union Oil Co. asked the board to grant permission for the establishment of sidewalk signs advertising certain brands of oil in front of various garages. McPhee explained that the signs were five feet high and 32 inches wide. On motion the request was denied.

McPhee brought up the matter of work done on the streets by the gas and electric companies, saying that trenches in various places had been left half filled, and the companies should be compelled to put the streets back in proper shape. Contract Huberman and took the blame for the conditions complained of, and said they would be fixed within two weeks.

Water Superintendent Reid stated that a lady living on West Fifth street just inside the city limits, had signed an agreement to pave in front of two places with the understanding on her part that the city water mains would be extended to that point before the work was done. It could not be found that any such promise had been authorized, and no action was taken.

The board adjourned until tomorrow night.

STALEY SAYS THE WALNUT CROP WILL BE A THIRD SHORT

FULLERTON, June 23.—Walnuts in Orange county this year will be 30 per cent short of a normal crop, from present indications, according to Arthur Staley's estimate. Staley is the secretary and manager of the Fullerton-Placentia Association of Walnut Growers, and is well informed regarding conditions in this county. From reports received by him, it is believed the crop in Los Angeles county will be from 30 to 40 per cent above the normal production, while Santa Barbara and Ventura counties will probably be 10 per cent short. He estimates the total crop for California this year at 11,000 tons. The annual consumption of walnuts in this country is about 30,000 tons, the demand in excess of the home crop being supplied by importations from France and European countries.

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat and Take Salts for Backache or Bladder Trouble

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

FISH AND GAME PETITIONS OUT

Initiative Movement for New Rules and Regulations to Go to the People

SACRAMENTO, June 23.—State-wide interest is being taken in the initiative petitions for the new fish and game regulations, which were put into circulation here yesterday for signatures.

The petitions are being circulated by the People's Fish and Game Protective Association, having headquarters in San Francisco, and 33,000 names will be necessary to have the new regulations put on the ballot for the votes of the people at the November election.

Secretary of State Jordan has been officially notified of the circulation of the petitions and the campaign for the new regulations will be carried on vigorously in San Francisco, Los Angeles and the fifty-six other counties of the state.

The prime object of the new regulations will be to allow the people at large, who own the game of California, the privilege of buying it in the public markets. Measures passed at the last session of the legislature would take this privilege away from the people and confer a game monopoly on the patrons of the game preserves.

Besides the provisions regulating the public sale of game, the initiative regulations contain many constructive features designed for the conservation of the wild life of the state and for a fish and game commission of seven members that will be a representative public body.

F. M. Bailey, secretary of the People's Fish and Game Protective Association, has enlisted the aid of farmers, women's clubs and other organizations throughout the state in the campaign and public meetings to be addressed by county officials and other persons of prominence will be held while the petitions are in circulation.

comes nearer the real value than $150.00 for the land I am advertising for sale at $125.00. When you consider the quality of the land, location, water, and the general neighborhood. This land is in crop and you don't have to guess as to what it will produce. It should just suit a "sure thing" general farmer—alfalfa, grain, beans, sugar beets, hogs and cows—40 acres, 60 acres or 100 acres fine level land and is now producing big crops of alfalfa, barley and sugar beets. Plenty of water, 1 1/4 miles from good town in Tulare county. You can contract 15 percent beets at $5.00 with 20c rise for five years.

This is the best time to buy land. We have had several years of political agitation, the country has been ruined and saved or saved and ruined, according to the viewpoint of the politician.

The tariff was lowered to reduce the high cost of living and ruin the farmer, meanwhile the price of land has continued to advance and farm products are bringing high prices even in the face of record breaking production and the high cost of living refuses to come down. Confusing, isn't it? Can you beat it? You can if you buy a piece of land now and become a producer of staple food products. Follow that "hunch" that tells you to buy now, before this state begins to feel the stimulating effect of the Exposition, country-wide good crops and easier money. If you are interested in this land or want information about deciduous fruits and nuts grown without irrigation in the Templeton or Paso Robles country, just call me up evening or morning, 644J, or drop me a letter with your address.

CAMPAIGN FOR BEET SUGAR NOW ON

Southern California Product
Guaranteed for All Purposes
by Refiners

A widespread educational campaign to promote the use of home-manufactured Southern California beet sugar has been undertaken by the refiners of this part of the state, says the Los Angeles Examiner. These refiners last year handled the beets from 90,000 acres, and from the 766,110 tons of beets produced on this acreage they refined 230,000,000 pounds of sugar. The acreage out to beets this year is approximately the same as last year's acreage.

"Southern California Sugar" is the name to be applied to this sugar, and housewives are to be convinced that certain prejudices against beet sugar are not justified. The refiners guarantee it for every purpose for which sugar is used, which means that for preserving and jelly making it is guaranteed to serve the purpose as well as cane sugar.

The reason why this guarantee is possible is that in spite of the belief of many housewives, beet sugar is identical with cane sugar; not even the chemist can tell them apart.

Refineries in Campaign
The seven Southern California refineries in this campaign are the American Beet Sugar Company, the Los Alamitos Sugar Company, the Santa Ana Co-operative Sugar Company, the Anaheim Sugar Company, the Southern California Sugar Company and the Holly Sugar Company.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley while chief of the Bureau of Chemistry declared beet and cane sugar were identical chemically and physically, and added: "Housewives in this country often attribute their failures in putting up preserves to the use of beet sugar. The same failures occur when cane sugar is used."

"In Europe nothing but beet sugar is used, still they have all kinds of preserves; in fact, England, where beet and cane sugars are used without preference, is noted for these products."

Appeal Especially Timely
The appeal of the refiners to the people to use the Southern California product is especially timely now, with the great industry threatened by the free sugar section of the Underwood tariff bill, which is to go into effect May 1, 1916, unless remedial legislation is secured. Growers and refiners gain some hope from the fact that the Department of Agriculture has appointed a commission to investigate the conditions of the beet sugar industry in the several states.

In Southern California the industry is important in Los Angeles, Ventura, Riverside, Orange, San Bernardino and San Diego counties. Thousands of growers owe to their prosperity, many towns owe their existence to it, and the beet sugar companies have $15,000,000 invested in factories and lands.

20,000 SALVATIONISTS MARCH IN WORLD PARADE IN LONDON

International Congress of Salvation Army Abounds in Striking Spectacular Features

LONDON, June 23.—An all-day "Festival of Praise" at the famous Crystal Palace marked the climax today of the international Congress of the Salvation Army which has been in session in London since June 11. Participating in this most spectacular demonstration in the Army's history were 2100 foreign delegates, many of them attired in their native garb, and some 18,000 delegates, and visiting Salvationists from all parts of the British Isles. From 8 o'clock in the morning there was a continuous succession of meetings within the huge glass and steel structure and in the big park surrounding—46 events in all, and conducted in 34 different languages.

The two principal events of the day were the reception to General and Mrs. Booth in the great transept of the Palace at 10 a. m., and the review of the Army by the general and his staff at 5 p. m. in the football grounds. One of the most picturesque features was the early morning unfurling of the flags of the various nations represented in the Congress, from staffs especially erected for the occasion in the Palace grounds. As each standard was broken out by chosen delegates the national anthem of each standard the country represented was played, and at the conclusion of the ceremony the fiery-starred banner of the Army itself floated out above the others, to the tune of "Onward Christian Soldiers." A special escort of six delegates from each country, carrying flags, conducted General and Mrs. Booth into the transport for the reception service. When they reached the platform the general was presented with addresses by the 25 territorial commanders in attendance upon the Congress.

During the meeting, which was concluded with a stirring address by the general, the music was led by a massed orchestra composed of the International Staff Band, and the Salvation bands from New York, Chicago, and Toronto, and a chorus of 4000 voices.

Fully 20,000 Salvationists, eight abreast, marched past the general in the grand review, to the music of 3000 bandmen, and before an audience of more than 15,000 which packed the football stands and overflowed into the grounds. The day's events will end at 9 tonight with another general meeting in the transept, to be addressed by leading foreign delegates, and a "farewell charge" by General Booth.

The Congress is to close next Friday evening with a public service in the Royal Albert Hall, after which 200 specially chosen foreign delegates will make a ten days' tour of the provinces demonstrating various phases of Salvation Army work.

TUBERCULOSIS AS CAUSE AND RESULT OF POVERTY—DR. KNOPF

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 23.—"Tuberculosis as a Cause and Result of Poverty" was talked on today by S. Adolphus Knopf, M. D., of New York City, before the sixty-fifth annual meeting of the American Medical Association, which began here yesterday morning. Dr. Knopf said in part:

"The factors causing a predisposition to tuberculosis, besides an inherited physiological poverty, are malnutrition, the inhalation of vitiated air due to overcrowding in factories and workshops, congestion in living and sleeping quarters, bad sanitation in general, overwork, child labor, repeated pregnancies, excessive woman's labor, and last but not least, alcoholism. In the large families of the poor it is usually the latter born children who contract tuberculosis. This is primarily due to physiological causes; the parents are older, less vigorous, the mother particularly being worn out by repeated pregnancies. The second might be called an economic cause. Although there was an increase of the family, there has not been a corresponding increase in the earnings of the father; hence less care, particularly for the younger children, less good food for all, and more crowded and poorer living quarters. Overcrowded and unsanitary workshops, where the workers are subjected to the inhalation of much mineral and vegetable dust or noxious gases, give the largest percentage of tuberculosis."

"Child labor and extensive woman's labor are additional factors. Tuberculosis is one of the most costly of all diseases. In the best and most economically conducted public institutions the maintenance of a tuberculosis patient costs at least $10 per week. If the tuberculosis invalid happens to be the principal breadwinner of all is sure to be the result, and unless the disease has been discovered early and a speedy cure is accomplished, the poverty of the family is liable to become as chronic as the disease itself. The fallacious belief, still prevalent among the masses, that whisky will prevent and cure tuberculosis has produced a goodly number of alcoholics. Instead of being a preventative alcohol is a strong predisposing factor to the disease. To do away with tuberculosis as a cause and result of poverty there must be education of the masses, better and more rigorous enforcement of sanitary laws, and more social justice whereby such things as unsanitary housing, underfeeding, overwork, and underpay of the adult, and also child labor shall become impossible."

CHECK DECLARED TO BE WORTHLESS

FULLERTON, June 23.—Detectives were here yesterday looking for a young man who gave the name of Ayres while he was in Fullerton about two weeks ago. Ayres claimed to be a newspaper man and said he was supporting a mother and sister in Los Angeles. He stopped at the Hotel Pinson while here and when he departed he gave a check on a Santa Ana bank for $20, bearing the signature of McAfee. The bank reported that it had no such name on its books and the hotel believes that Ayres forged the check, as the handwriting seems to be the same as a part of a letter found in a waste basket, addressed to his mother. The hotel swore to a complaint against Ayres and the detectives are after him.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

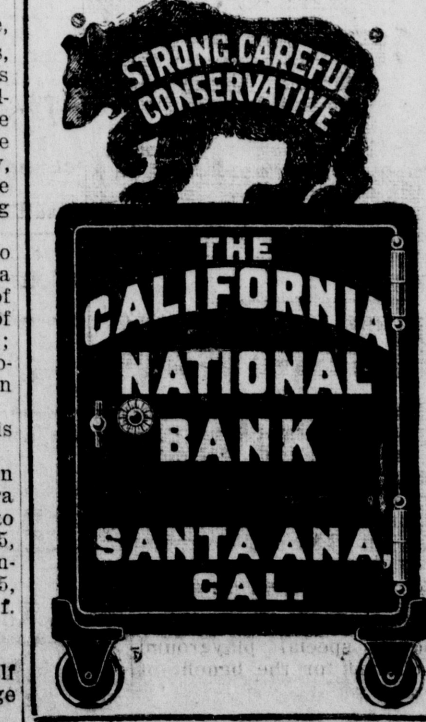

Bring Back its Color and Lustre With Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

GRADUATING ESSAYS

As there were no graduating essays at the Santa Ana High School Commencement, one may, without fear of being misunderstood as alluding to anyone in particular, indulge in some general observations on graduating essays. Members of graduating classes may like to know how the typical commencement essay strikes the editor—not necessarily this editor, but any editor,—with whom writing is a trade and daily bread. Perhaps the juniors, who a year from now with pumping hearts will discourse to admiring parents, on the true, the good, and the beautiful, may find some suggestions.

Many commencement essays are obviously not chiefly the work of those who read them. Kind parents help bewildered offspring out of bad holes. In many places, teachers brighten up or smooth down a bungling or rough essay. Many young writers merely copy sentences out of books and magazines. With an index and a file of magazines, any intelligent pupil can prepare a very brilliant essay. But plagiarism takes an old hand. The cribber unconsciously borrows phrases that otherwise he would never use. The experienced listener can spot the game.

The most effective essay comes out of the personal observation of the writer. If the student gives his own impression of incidents which he has personally experienced, it has the magnetic quality of human interest.

Years ago graduating exercises were written on vague and grandiloquent themes. Tens of thousands of fluffy and soaring girls have written on "Over the Alps Lies Italy." "Knowledge is Power" is another stock subject that the average school trotted out every other year. Nothing new can possibly be said by a graduating class about such subjects.

Let the essayists talk about everyday business and domestic life, the birds and wild flowers they have seen, their experiences in travel or vacations, everyday work and play among young people, the needs, enterprises, and occupations of their home town. To such subjects as these, they can add some personal touch.

THE BALDWIN APPLE

An appropriate memorial to Loammi Baldwin, whose name is associated with the Baldwin apple, was provided recently by Mrs. Nellie M. Baldwin Farmer of Pittsburg. She purchased a farm of 175 acres at Hampton Falls, N. H., and set out 4000 Baldwin apple trees.

The apple certainly is worthy of such a mark of recognition, and anyone who owns an available piece of land might serve himself and the community well by following the example set by Mrs. Farmer.

Baldwin apple related by Mrs. Farmer is interesting. Loammi Baldwin, years before the Revolution, cut scions from a wild apple tree near Wilmington, Mass., and in five years surprised his neighbors with a crop of red apples of remarkable flavor and keeping quality. His name was given to the apple by common consent, and when the original tree died the site was marked by a monument.

Since Loammi Baldwin found the wild apple tree that bears his name, scores of different varieties of apples have been produced. But the Baldwin apple more than holds its ground among people who judge fruit by its flavor rather than by its size.

There is an appropriateness in marking the site of a patriarchal apple tree with a monument and in honoring the memory of the man who produced a better apple than the world had known before.

The face of the earth is covered with monuments to battle heroes and statesmen, which is well enough; but it is doubtful if all the fighters of history have done as much real good for mankind as has the man who humbly and quietly made the apple better than it was.

Really, in the long run, the great things of life are the little things.

Political Statements

Formal announcement is made today of the candidacy of Hans V. Weisel of Anaheim for re-election as Assemblyman. Mr. Weisel is a bright, capable young lawyer, and during his one term in office has proved himself an honest, hard-working, intelligent and efficient legislator. Mr. Weisel's honesty is of the kind that includes frankness and sincerity in things political as well as in matters personal.

Mr. Weisel is 31 years of age, and was born in Milwaukee, Wis. He is married and has a family; has lived in Anaheim 22 years, and has been practicing law there for the past six years, as senior member of the law firm of Weisel & Dutton.

In connection with his announcement Mr. Weisel presents the following statement:

"In announcing myself as a candidate for the Progressive nomination for Assemblyman, 76th District, (Orange county), I ask the people to examine the record of my work in the last session of the legislature and I should continue to represent them. "Before my election in 1912, I made but one promise to the people and that promise was to work for and support all legislation that was for the welfare and benefit of all the people,—rich and poor alike. That promise I have tried to carry out faithfully and honestly.

"My past experience has given me a better understanding of the work of legislation and of the needs of Orange county, among which latter being the need of a good practical law to control the use of artesian water by gun clubs. Irrigation water is the life of this county and should be conserved. Few people realize that the gun clubs along our coast waste an enormous amount of water,—a waste which is nothing less than criminal. This evil can and should be remedied.

"Lack of space prevents a lengthier statement at this time, so I shall close this announcement with the promise that, if nominated and elected, I shall again work for and support all legislation that will benefit the people of the state and the people of Orange County.

Their aeroplane had been beaten down by the storm to a small island and later they made their way to the mainland in the airboat, which was undamaged.

Atwood and his bride went to Cedar Point Wednesday. They flew across Lake Erie from Toledo Beach, seven miles up the bay.

VANDERBILT, MORGANS FORGOT $800,000 TO AID BANKRUPT FRIEND

Regard Loans Personal and Withdraw Claims So Hollins Firm Can Settle

NEW YORK, June 23.—In settling the tangled financial affairs of H. B. Hollins & Company, bankrupt brokers, in the United States District Court yesterday, there was revealed an exceptional phase of the friendship that the late J. Pierpont Morgan and the present William K. Vanderbilt held for Mr. Hollins.

Mr. Vanderbilt and the trustees of the Morgan estate, knowing the warmth of the dead financier's friendship, forgot that Harry Hollins ever borrowed $500,000 of Vanderbilt money and $300,000 of Morgan money to tide his firm over hard times. They said they would regard these large loans as purely personal transactions between friends.

The result was the settlement in court today of the bankruptcy proceedings against the Hollins firm. By withdrawal of the Vanderbilt and Morgan claims enough assets were left to make satisfactory arrangements with all the other creditors. It was agreed to pay 10 per cent of the claims within five days and give notes for the remainder.

WATERWAY IMPROVEMENT COMMISSION IS PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Creation of a commission with broad authority to control federal activity in waterway improvement was proposed yesterday in an amendment to the pending rivers and harbors appropriation bill by Senator Newlands. The plan was approved by the president.

WAS STAR STUDENT

Miss Margaret Roy Wins First Scholarship Honor, Senior Class of Poly High

One of the big days on the high school calendar for next year and the coming year should be the "Honor Day." This was instituted this year, but not many of the students fully appreciated its meaning or what was expected of it. Next year it should be looked forward to by the students, and they should at the beginning of the year begin to see to it that their names will be called on "Honor Day."

The plan is to have all the students who have distinguished themselves along any of the lines of student body activities, as scholarship, oratory, debating, athletics, etc., presented before the student body on Honor Day, and the honor or honors due each announced; and further, to have pictures of the teams placed on the corridor walls, or if an individual honor, to have the name of the winner inscribed on a wooden shield to be hung in some appropriate place. Visitors to the Poly High in the years to come can see at a glance who the students were each year who were really doing things.

This year all the honor winners were announced except the winner of the scholarship honor. A committee of two faculty members and a student was appointed to determine the winners, but was unable to report "Honor Day." It was intended to have the name of the winner announced at commencement, but for some reason it wasn't done. However, the usual coveted honor of being the star student of the senior class goes this year to Miss Margaret Roy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Roy, of North Main street, Santa Ana. By common consent, Miss Sophie Hardy was voted the "first" student of last year's class. This year she has upheld her high school record at Occidental. As much will be expected of Miss Roy at Pomona next year by her Santa Ana friends.

Beach House Party

Miss Laura Taylor, who is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor, at Newport Beach, where they are enjoying a vacation, was hostess today at a house party for some of her friends of the senior class just graduating from Poly High. Her guests were Misses Helen Reinhaus, Margaret Roy, Lois Wilson, Gallene Finley, Lillian Walker.

Ebbell to Meet Saturday

The question of the support of the Day Nursery will be presented to the Ebbell Society for final settlement on Saturday afternoon, when the club holds its last meeting for the season at Elks Hall. The vote will be by ballot, upon which the following questions will appear:

1. How much of the annual dues per member shall be given annually to the support of the Day Nursery?
2. Shall the Ebbell Society assume the entire support of the Day Nursery, and devise ways and means for the additional funds needed?

Each member is requested to provide herself with a pencil, so that the balloting may be accomplished as quickly as possible.

Our enrollment total of five hundred and forty (540) is bound to reach the six hundred mark before fall.

In summer our expenses go on just the same and we must balance the falling off of our students who have faithfully worked throughout the school year by adding new ones during the vacation season.

Our greatest handicap is the excessive demand of school work, which most unfortunately prevents many from pursuing music.

Get the ten per cent discount this week, however, and study.

TO HER AIDES

Mrs. Lawton in Capacity of Ebbell President, Hostess at Charming Luncheon

After the monthly Ebbell Society board meeting yesterday afternoon, Mrs. A. J. Lawton, who is finishing one term as Ebbell president, and who was unanimously elected to that office for the coming year, was hostess to the board members, the Ebbell officers, and to the chairmen of her committees, at a delightful little feast at Taylor's banquet rooms.

Brown baskets filled with nasturtiums were the decorations used, and graceful sprays of painted nasturtiums graced the place cards.

Some very interesting plans and some equally interesting ideas which will probably develop into definite plans later were discussed, all of which had to do with the broadening of next year's field of club work. Some of these plans are to be presented to the club for consideration on Saturday afternoon when the final meeting for the season will be held in Elks Hall.

The ladies who enjoyed Mrs. Lawton's gracious hospitality included Mesdames L. J. Carden, W. M. Smart, W. S. Peek, W. L. Leiby, W. B. Tedford, S. M. Dearing, J. R. Medlock, C. A. Gustlin, W. V. At the request of several who wished to attend both the lecture and recital, the time of the recital has been set for 8:20; doors open at 7:45.

The following is the excellent program which has been prepared:

To Discuss Bond Election

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the McKinley School Kindergarten building on West Third street there will be a special meeting of the McKinley Parent-Teacher Association for the purpose of discussing the merits of the coming school bond election. This is important, and all voters and taxpayers are most urgently requested to be present and hear the reasons fully explained for the voting of the bonds.

ALUMNI BANQUET

Two Hundred and Twenty Graduates of High School Meet

When old friends get together, there one will find good fellowship, good humor and a good time. Last night's banquet of the Santa Ana High School Alumni was one of those occasions. Every class from the pioneer class of 1893 down to 1914 was represented. Three were present from those first few who received diplomas from the institution. While the earliest classes lacked somewhat in numbers, they were strong in enthusiasm, and in the enjoyment of the occasion. In proportion to the number of graduates, the class of '01 had the best representation.

The ladies of the First Christian Church served the banquet, an excellent one, at Elks' hall, which is an ideal place for a banquet. The 220 graduates who were present last night were seated at the tables by classes. The high school colors, red and white, were carried out in the table decorations.

The officers of the association were re-elected as follows: President, T. E. Stephenson, '98; secretary, Miss Rosamond Norman, '05. Executive committee—W. B. Williams, '97; Miss Blanche McDowell, '00; J. L. McBride, '05; Chas. Martin, '10; Malcolm Tedford, '13.

After the business meeting, the president introduced the toastmaster, County Clerk W. B. Williams, whose introductions of the speakers added to the gaiety of the occasion. Owing to illness, E. J. Marks, '96, was unable to be present, and his toast, "The Cornerstone," was read by Frank Hunt, '93. "Get Out and Get Under" was the subject to which Harry B. Blee, '01, of San Bernardino did ample and witty justice, pointing out that the subject well fits the situation that faces most people sometime after graduation.

"Playing the Game" was the subject of a toast that produced an episode of good humor. It was given by Miss Margaret Gardner, '04, former deputy city prosecutor of Los Angeles. Harry Warner, '10, added to the good nature of the assemblage by his treatment of his subject, "Mixed Pickles."

A splendid toast was "Crossing the Bar," by Miss Elsie Wingood, '13, a welcoming of the recent graduates into the ranks of the Alumni. Miss Stella Nisson, in a pleasing address, responded for the "youngsters," as they were referred to by the toastmaster.

"The High School of Today" was responded to by Principal E. H. McMath, whose portrayal of the size of the school sounded almost like fiction to some of the old timers who had come to the banquet from out of town.

Temperance Rally

A union temperance rally of all the young people's organizations of Orange county will be held under the auspices of the Santa Ana Dry Federation in the First Baptist Church of Santa Ana, Wednesday evening, June 24, at 7:30.

Young People's California Dry Rally

On the evening of Wednesday, June 24, in the First Baptist church of Santa Ana, a mass meeting for the Orange county young people's societies will be held, commencing at 7:30. Among the speakers there will be the Rev. R. A. M. Brown, the famous author of the California "Dry" song, and who is now one of the department heads of the "California Dry" movement. Dr. Browne is considered one of the strongest speakers in the California movement this year. He will be one of the speakers at the coming State Christian Endeavor and Epworth League conventions. Dr. Browne will be accompanied by the Hon. C. H. Randall, the editor of the Highland Park Herald and one of the executive committee in the state movement. Mr. Randall is an interesting and forceful speaker. This meeting, while gotten up by the young people's societies will be open to the public and will be well worth while attending. The members of the local W.C.T.U. will serve refreshments to the out-of-town delegates.

Clune's Good Program

"The Perils of Pauline" is the headliner on the bill at Clune's for the first three days of this week. This is the seventh episode and it is every bit as interesting and thrilling as the former installments have been. A good comedy reel is "The Adventure of the Rival Undertakers," by the Vitograph players. Hughey Mack is one of the leading characters—enough said. The Daily News and the Hearst-Selig News Pictorial made up the remainder of the picture program.

Bristow and Warren present some good comedy. The feature of their act is their expert and novel balancing. Nolan and Kelsey, with several instrumental selections, proved themselves to be masters with violin and piano. The violin solos were especially good.

Patrons of Clune's are again reminded of the next adventure of Kathlyn, which will appear next Thursday, Friday and Saturday matinee. This is an excellent installment, full of thrills and excitement. Don't fail to see it.

OUR WEEKLY SERMON

Preached by Rev. Paul E. Wright at the First Christian Church, Sunday Morning, June 21, 1914, on the Subject: "Hidden in God."

If one should take the third verse of the third chapter of the letter to the church at Colossae, with the fifteenth verse of the same chapter, he would find a connection between them, that has been amply verified in the experience of every Christian. These verses put together read like this: "For ye are dead and your life is hid with Christ in God—(therefore) And let the peace of God Rule in your hearts, to the which ye are also called in one body; and be ye thankful."

The principle that I think is here laid down is this: "Perfect hiding brings perfect peace."

We can trust ourselves just as we are with God. It is a wonderful comment on Christian fortitude to understand the condition in which the writer of these wonderful words was when he wrote them. He was in prison and the day of his execution was not far distant. His life had been one continual persecution. He had been beaten until he said: "I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus." Now he was facing death. How could he say: "Let the peace of God rule in your hearts, and be ye thankful." Evidently there is more in the Christian's hope, and in his view of life than appears on the surface. From a human standpoint there was nothing but turmoil and pain, and this calm serene view of life astounds us. If it is possible for one to undergo all that Paul did and yet have peace in his heart, we must have a new definition for peace. I take it that the broad, hopeful view of life taken by the child of God gives him a serenity that refuses to be disturbed by the ills and misfortunes that may come upon him. What is the reason the Christian is possessed of this great calm of the soul? It lies in the fact that he has put himself in the right relation with the great and good cause of our world, God. Let us, therefore, take a brief survey of the one who has entered into covenant relationship with his God.

One is touched by hearing the gospel. He cries out as did they on the day of pentecost, "What must I do?" Turning to book of Acts he finds there the answer that is bound on earth and bound in heaven. When that answer has been complied with he can be assured that God has forgiven his past, let be what it may; as disgraceful, sinful and wasted as a prodigal and wanton can make it.

The past is hid in God's great heart of loving forgiveness. Why not be at peace? But we cannot rest here. Life is not all past. There is a present that must find employment to be peaceful and happy. Jesus says: "He that heareth these sayings of mine and doeth them I will liken him unto a man that built his house on a rock." The storms and the floods came, but the house stood. Again he says: "If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them." The Christian finds joy and peace in service. His present is lost in self-forgetfulness and service. Service, in the last few years, has come to be a very big word. Efficiency in business, politics, and social work is the demand of the hour. Nowhere is it more important than in the life of the Christian. God expects efficient service. The lukewarm, stale flat, unprofitable servant of God, goes with the rest of his kind into the vomit of the world, the garbage and the refuse of inutility. We notice again that the Christian's future is hopeful. This is God's world. He orders all things well. He has not raised us to the mountain top of hope simply to plunge us to the very depths of despair. We often hear one boasting say: "I am not afraid to die." Neither is the dog. It is not a question of being afraid to die. It is whether you have any hope in death. As a matter of fact we will all die, and probably find dying very easy; but we want the assurance that there is some one holding us and waiting for us when we put out to sea.

There is also this consolation to the one who is a follower of Christ, his life is hid with him but not TO him. It is worth something to know that one has a sympathetic friend. One who can and does enter into his life with a full understanding of his trials and his strength to overcome them. "For we have not an high priest who can not be touched by the feeling of our infirmities, but was in all points tempted we are yet without sin."

The burden that disturbs our peace, makes us trouble and causes our unhappiness is sin. It is not possible for one to be at peace with his God or his fellowman who is constantly sinning against them. The life hid with Christ in God is the one rightly disposed and lived among men and having a God-ward bearing.

Finally, we notice that there are some things that we must let God do for us. Some would take the kingdom by violence, and the violent would take it by force. Here we are told to let the peace of God rule in our hearts. Put yourself in a receptive condition for what God has to give. Let the mind and heart be given to Christ and the adjustment between one and his lot, between man and man, between man and God will perfect and the peace that passeth understanding will be yours.

SOCIETY GIRL ON CARIBOU HUNTING TRIP IN ALASKA

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Tiring of the continual round of social activities in Alameda, Oakland and San Francisco, Miss Pauline Painter, Alameda society girl, today has gone to Alaska, where she will hunt big game for three months. She will stalk the caribou and mountain sheep in their native Klondike. A Seattle Miss Painter will be joined by several relatives, including Mrs. Webster Norcross, a society leader of that city. Then the party will travel by steamer to Sitka, where they will hit the trail overland to Dawson City. En route they will seek big game in the upper Ramparis, a famous hunting region. Miss Painter is one of the most popular belles of the San Francisco bay region. To her friends she is affectionately known as "Tiddy" Painter. "I have always loved the great outdoors," said Miss Painter before sailing, "and this trip has been planned to carry us into the heart of Alaska's wilderness. We expect to be gone three months and feel certain we will return with many trophies."

Los Angeles Produce Market
The price of apples is going to be higher this year than for at least two and possibly more years past. The reason is merely a slight shortage in the crop, particularly through the wonderful Pajaro Valley where Belle-fleurs and Peralmas are king and queen. A careful survey of that district by experts approximates the crop at about 3200 cars against 4116 cars last year. The quality is going to be superb unless there is a heavy heat wave for three or four days which might cause discolorations of the fruit. So far the weather has been excellent and the Watsonville apples are in fine condition. They are already taking good color and the first Bellefleur shipments will begin within three weeks. In other parts of the state where apples are grown the crop is similar. In Southern California mountain districts a late frost and the heavy rains did some damage, but the surviving fruit is going to be fine quality. The shipments of Gravesteins and White Astrakhans continue to increase and the best of this crop will arrive in another two weeks. On the local market, small fruits are very plentiful. It is possible to buy apricots for as little as 25 cents a box and really fine fruit for 50 cents. Freestone peaches, yellow meat, are now here. They are bringing $1.00 to $1.25 per lug box. Plums the selling from 75 cents to $1.50, according to quality. Berries are changed in value to the extent that they have declined to the lowest price of the year. Any variety was obtainable for as little as 45 cents a tray or 3 cents a basket yesterday morning. They sold from there up to 6 cents a tray. Pineapple receipts were reported for the first time in several weeks and the fruit sold at 7 to 8 cents. Watermelons are very plentiful, the market being heavily supplied. Ten cars were reported from Imperial and the first locals are coming in.

Egg prices advanced through the list. Case count sold at 27 cents with candles as high as 30 cents asked. Receipts were very light, only 301 cases. Northern receipts were considerably larger. Butter arrivals were 4500 pounds. The demand for butter was fair and quotations steady. Receipts were 45,000 pounds. Cheese receipts were 2885 pounds. Eastern arrivals still continue very large. Potatoes are weak and sold at $1.25 on very fair stock. Receipts from the outside were 1470 sacks. Onions were fair traders and only 40 sacks were reported in. Receipts of tomatoes were more than 5000 crates. Prices were down to $1.00.

GREAT FALLS SEEN IN SOUTH AMERICA

Captain Benson Says Waterfall is Six Times as Great as That of Niagara

NEW YORK, June 23.—Capt. W. J. P. Benson, a member of the Royal Geographical Society of England and said to be one of the few white men who have seen Kaieteur Falls, in the heart of British Guiana, is here on his way to London, on board the Taurus, of the Royal Mail steam packet line.

In the last twelve years Captain Benson has traveled through the West Indies, the Canal zone and South America obtaining material for lectures.

Recently Captain Benson, with native bearers, made a three-hundred-mile journey into British Guiana to the Kaieteur Falls, which he declared are nearly six times as great as those at Niagara. The trip was safely made in the rainy season, most of the traveling being done at night.

Japanese growers of raspberries who try to dispose of short weight berry baskets are having a hard time of it in Santa Ana. Yesterday R. Tsujieci was fined $5 in City Recorder Wilson's court for selling short weight berries. This morning several crates of the fruit belonging to C. The little gentlemen from the Flowery Kingdom promised to fill their berry baskets in the future.

Justice Cox Grants Continuance Until July 9—Attorneys Not Ready

In the justice court this morning Attorneys H. C. Head and William M. Brown, appearing for Frank C. Kent, charged with the murder of I. O. Wilson at Garden Grove May 13, asked that the preliminary hearing be continued till July 9, 1914. Justice Cox granted the continuance. It appears that Attorney Head had a case in Los Angeles this morning and that both he and Attorney Brown were not quite ready to proceed with Kent's case.

"Suspended Pronouncement"
Justice Cox this morning "suspended pronouncement of judgment" in the case of H. C. Scott and Clarence Acocks, 18-year-old bakers' assistants, who were rounded up by local officers on a vagrancy charge. The justice learned that the youngsters had a little money with them and a telephone communication on the part of the officers with people in Los Angeles who know the boys convinced Judge Cox that the lads were sincere in their efforts to locate work here. Local authorities secured employment for the boys on a ranch near Santa Ana.

Discarded Crossing Sign
William P. Houghton was fined five dollars this morning for driving to the left of the crossing sign at Third and Main streets in passing another automobile. This is the second time that Houghton has been brought before Justice Cox, the first time having been for not having a tail light.

PRINCE OF WALES IS TWENTY TODAY-- $1,000,000 INCOME

LONDON, June 23.—The Prince of Wales, King George's eldest son, and heir to the British throne, is celebrating his twentieth birthday today, and in honor of the event artillery salutes were fired in St. James Park, London, and at Windsor and all the big naval and military centers. Flags were flown on all government buildings, and the diplomatic representatives of the various nations tendered official congratulations on behalf of their rulers. The Prince is taking a couple of days holiday from his studies at Oxford University, to celebrate the event.

Born in 1894, he was created Prince of Wales shortly after his father ascended the throne. As the next heir, he automatically became Duke of Cornwall on his father's accession, and next year when he becomes of age he will take complete control of the revenues of the duchy as his own private pocket-money. These together with his other resources, including his salary of $250,000 (from the British taxpayers), will make his annual income more than a million dollars. The Prince's full names, style and titles are: Duke of Cornwall, Earl of Chester, Duke of Rothesay, prince of Renfrew, Lord of the Isles and Great Steward of Scotland.
